Don't Forget the date of the Primary Election August 3d.

A petition containing the names of 2300 voters of Pulaski county has been filed with the county judge asking that local option election be held on October 1st.

Teatersville Postoffice Discontinued.

The postoffice at Teatersville in this county has been discontinued upon orders of the postoffice department. Patrons of that office will receive their mail by Rural Route no. 3 out of Lancaster.

Mr. Walker Improving.

The many friends of Mr. W. S. Walker will be glad to know that he is gradually recovering from the shock incident to being knocked down by a buggy which he was preparing to enter last week, and that he hopes to be out again soon.

Does Not Apply To Schools

Attorney General James Breathitt has rendered an opinion in regard to the recently enacted "drinking cup act," in which he holds to the belief that the act does not apply to public schools. The opinion was rendered for and has been transmitted to Superintendent Hamlett.

An Appreciated Improvement.

A new concrete bridge succeeding the old (ram shackle) wooden affair over Clark's Run in Boyle county on the Lancaster and Danville pike has just been thrown open to the public. The inconvenience to the traveling public incident to the building of this bridge is more than overbalanced by the convenience of the new structure.

Ask Any K. of P.

During the Fair every member of the K. of P. lodge, over eighty in number, will wear a bow of green ribbon clasped by a large white button, on which will be inscribed "member", and will also wear a white yacht cap. Be it either on or off the Fair ground ask them for any desired information, they will be pleased to accommodate you.

Subscribe For The Record.

Come in during the Fair and give us your subscription to The Record. We would like to see the Record go into every home in Garrard county. We are putting forth our best efforts to give you a good home paper, and expect to do better in the future than we have in the past. If you will call at the office we will be pleased to give you a sample copy for your consideration, whether you subscribe or not.

Mt. Vernon Fair.

We are in receipt of a complimentary ticket to the first annual exhibition of the Mt. Vernon Fair Association to be held at Mt. Vernon Ky. on August 7-8 & 9th. The officers of the association are Chas. C. Davis pres., J. W. Parsons, v-pres., E. R. Gentry, secy and J. Fish treasurer. If the good people of Mt. Vernon are as successful with their Fair as they are with other entertainments which they have attempted, it will be a good one. We hope to attend.

Concrete Work In Progress.

Mr. R. H. Batson is putting down a six foot concrete pavement in front of his residence on Lexington street; Theo. Curry is putting down concrete in front of his home on Richmond street and a nice concrete pavement is being placed in front of the Howard store, the old Powell corner.

It looks as if there was going to be an enforcement of the laws in regard to the putting down of sidewalks in the near future. The recent legislature passed an act which makes it possible for cities of the fifth class to force the putting down of side walks at the expense of property owners.

Better Get Your License.

Squirrels are plentiful and guns are heard a popping in the country, notwithstanding the fact that there has been only one hunters license issued in this county. Better look out or some one will be in trouble. Unless you are hunting exclusively upon your own land, a license is necessary, and it is very tempting when hunting on your own land if the game escapes to some one elses premises, you will almost invariably pursue it, and right then you are in trouble. The license must be obtained from the county clerk of the county in which you reside, and costs you $1.00, and is good in any county in the state for one year.

The Harvest.

Wheat is coming in and is weighing out well and is commanding $1.00 per bushel in the local market, if in good condition, and the bulk of it is first class, all that does not come up to the standard, falling short because of dampness.

The oat harvest was the best ever known in the county, but owing to the fact that what the farmers consider a low price, 30 to 35 cents per bushel, is being offered, the bulk of the oats is being held, either in the bundle, cut with a mower and baled, or threshed and stored for their winter use.

The timothy hay crop is also almost unprecedented and farmers have visions of large returns from this crop.

Almost A Centenarian.

"Aunt Maria" Francis died at the home of her daughter Margaret Rothwell, colored, near Point Leavell, last Thursday at the advanced age of 99 years. Her intellect was bright up to the time of her death. She was the oldest person in the county.

This Is Good

The Record is glad to note that many of the farmers of the county are cutting the weeds along the road in front of their premises, as well as over the farm. This is a very laudable move, it adds to the sightliness of the farm and impresses the stranger with the idea that we are a thrifty people.

Big Cattle Sold.

Luther Gibbs has sold to Joe Bales of Madison for Swartzchild & Sulzberger, the big New York cattle exporters, 40 head of export cattle for September delivery at 7 1/2 cents per pound. Mr. Gibbs expects his cattle to weigh a little the rise of 1400 pounds at time of delivery.

Maj. Collier Goes On Long Trip.

Maj. W. H. Collier will sail on Aug. 17th from Portland Ore. for Honolulu for a two months stay on business connected with his government position, he will return via San Francisco. Maj. Collier has invited his nephew Dan Elkin of the Record office to accompany him on this trip, but owing to the fact that Dan expects to enter Yale on September 1st, it is doubtful if he will accept the invitation.

An Addition To An Already Strong Firm.

Mr. Henry Moore has purchased an interest in the Garrard Milling Co. Mr. Moore has for some time been connected with this firm in the capacity of book keeper. He is a splendid business man and gentleman and will add much to this already strong firm. Mr. Moore was for many years engaged in the mercantile business at Paint Lick, but went west and stayed some time, returning to this county about a year ago.

Statue Of Senator Bradley.

Governor Thatcher of the Canal Zone, together with other admirers of Senator W. O. Bradley has ordered of Gerome Connors, the famous Washington sculptor, a bronze bust of the Senator. The cast, which is of clay is well under way and the features are said to be strikingly like the distinguished Senator. It is the intention of those who are having the bust made to have it placed on a handsome pedestal in the Capitol building in Frankfort.

Atlanta College Physicians and Surgeons

Lancaster young men who contemplate taking a medical course have an exceptional opportunity in being able to attend the Atlanta College of Physicians & Surgeons of Atlanta Ga., of which our former townsman Dr. W. S. Elkin is Dean. The college has had several years of splendid success, Dr. Elkin stands high in his profession in the south, and any young man from this locality who should attend would be accorded splendid treatment.

Many "Drummers."

Lancaster is probably visited by as many travelling men as any town in the state. In the county is nearly fifty country stores, and everyone of them have good ratings in the books of the commercial agencies, and this is the kind of merchants the "drummers" want to visit. Scarcely a week passes but the hotel Kengarian is full to overflowing, and many of the Knights of the Grip remain for as long as a week at a time, driving over the county. A sure sign of prosperity is this.

Nearly Scalped Him.

Allen Stewart colored went on a rampage on the chute Monday afternoon and when William Shanks also colored remonstrated with him, set in to "do", William, Whereupon, Shanks almost scalped him with an old army sabre. Stewart then went away and armed himself with a double barreled shotgun and went a looking for Shanks he found him and but for the timely interference of Chief Herron would doubtless have shot him. The chief disarmed him and landed him in jail to sweat out some of the bad booze which he had accumulated, and when he rids himself of that article he will have to make his peace with Judge Harris.

Some Goats.

Col. A. D. Leavell and "Uncle Dave" Ross were recently discussing goards, when Col. Leavell made the statement that he once saw a gourd at the home, of John Smith, who lived on Broadbush Branch in the county, which would hold, actual measurement, 1 bushel, 1 peck and 1 pint, and that a three year old child could easily and comfortably climb into and seat itself in the gourd. Not to be outdone Uncle Dave vouchsafed the information that he owned a gourd that measured 4 feet 4 inches from tip to tip, and that he utilized it in his political campaigns to secure a drink of water from wayside springs, thereby saving himself the time and trouble of dismounting from his horse, and he furthermore produced the gourd which actually came up to his given measurements. Each of those gentlemen want it distinctly understood that they did not raise the goards in controversy.

Change In Management.

Mr. W. P. Anderson has resigned as manager of the local supply store of the Farmers Union and Mr. Maurice Green of the county has been chosen as his successor. Mr. Anderson is a clever gentleman and has made many friends since his removal to Lancaster and it is to be hoped that he will remain here and engage in other business.

Politics Engage The Attention Of The Court Day Crowd To Exclusion Of All Else.

Hon. J. A. Sullivan was billed to address the court day crowd here Monday, Hon. Harvey Helm appeared on the scene and the argument was warm from start to finish, each one of the gentlemen appearing before the crowd in more or less lengthy addresses several times. Both were accorded especial attention and the applause was deafening as the candidates would make a point. The followers of both Judge Sullivan and Mr. Helm are loud in their contention that their favorite had the best of the argument. This was the last court day in the district preceding the primary which takes place Saturday week, August 3d, and therefore this was the largest crowd the gentlemen may hope to have gathered to hear them, and they were particularly anxious to advance every possible argument in their own behalf.

"LISTEN"

The Biggest Show Ever Staged In Garrard County Being Pulled Off This Week.

When the Farmers Home Journal wants to call attention to any very interesting article, they head it "Listen," and we sure want to call your attention to this 1912 Fair.

The biggest string of horses, over 100, the best band, the best midway, the best dinner and the best people at the helm ever, now all we need is the best crowd to make it the biggest success ever. Actually 100 head of the pride of Kentucky in the horse line are stalled in and around the grounds. Listen to the roster and see if it don't make some fair:—Mat Cohen with 13, including Edna Mae and her foal, Pres Ray with 12, Mack Hughes with 8, R. Z. Moss with 6, The Duncan with 7, Nicholson with 8, Bernard Hayes with 5, Walter Walker with 5, Smiling Bob Walker with a string and a lot of others. There can be no doubt of the strongest kind of competition for every prize.

Up to a month ago absolutely nothing had been done toward having a fair, except to claim the dates, and when the K of P lodge determined to give it, there was much misgiving among the sceptical as to the advisability of it, but they were not daunted by the skeptics, their first move was to secure the services of the veteran secretary Bob Elkin, who is built like a good race horse, to cover ground, and since that time he has worked night and day, with what success, go out and see.

With the defeat of Don C. Edwards by Caleb Powers for congress still ranking in their breasts, followed closely by the terrific Taft-Roosevelt struggle and the consequent "Bull Moose" movement, the "bloody eleventh", the republican stronghold of Kentucky is rent and torn as is probably no other locality in the state. Brother is ranged against brother, friend against friend, erstwhile political allies are now bitterly arraigned against each other. The democrats, who have always considered a contest in this district hopeless, the republicans having been able to muster such a majority as to effect materially state elections, much less district and county races, have taken courage from the present unsettled condition of affairs among their republican brothers, and have determined to make a mighty effort to land the district in the democratic ranks. With this end in view, Hon. Ben V. Smith, a brilliant young lawyer of Somerset will be given the nomination for congress in the eleventh district without opposition and herculean efforts will be made to defeat Caleb Powers for re-election. Hon Woodson May, a member of the State Central Committee, will manage Mr Smith's campaign, and he has hit upon a unique plan to raise funds to finance the campaign; he has inaugurated a contribution fund to which every democrat in the state is asked to contribute the sum of one dollar, or more should they so desire, and in this manner hopes to materially supplement the local funds. Look at it in a general way, every county and every district has and should have its own burden to bear in the matter of raising campaign funds, but we think in this instance that the end should justify the means, and now that the time is so propitious that every assistance possible should be extended to the democrats of the eleventh in snatching the district from the republicans, and that every democrat in the state who can possibly do so should contribute his one dollar.

Here's success to you Ben Smith.

Fair week.
A Gala time.
Second only to Xmas week.
Attractions for the grown ups, good music, fun for the children. Lay aside the cares of harvest, domestic duties, come in and join the throng of merry makers. Have a good time, it only comes once a year, put your cares behind you for the nonce and enjoy yourself to the limit. Bear in mind that the profits of this Fair goes to a charitable institution, the K of P lodge, and they have spared neither time, trouble nor expense to make the show worth your while. Come in and encourage them by your presence, and if this one be a success, you will see a permanent organization under the auspices of this wide awake lodge, with splendid new and up-to-date fair grounds, upon which they will give exhibitions annually.

Many visitors are here, from far and near, from neighboring counties and from neighboring states, all bent on renewing old time acquaintances, and having a good time. Some of them are expecting to see YOU there, do not disappoint them. Come in and bring the children and spend the day. There is ample entertainment for every body, regardless of their inclinations.

You Must Sign Your Name.

An interesting letter from Nina omitted last week because of the fact that the writer failed to sign their name. We positively will not publish unsigned communications.

HELM ASLEEP.

He Took No Part In Recent Whiskey Election in Lincoln County.

The charge often repeated that Congressman Helm has at all times been "asleep" on temperance has proven to be an absolute undisputed fact. The Advocate sent the following telegram this morning to Rev. J. S. Dickey, the temperance leader of Lincoln county.
Rev. J. J. Dickey Stanford, Ky:
The temperance people of Boyle county are anxious to know whether or not Congressman Helm worked and voted for local option at the recent election held in Lincoln county. We are desirous of securing the actual facts. Please rush answer by wire.

Ed Walton Sells Somerset Times.

Ed Walton was quick to perceive the fact that the newspaper field in Somerset was badly overworked, and he made a proposition to Col. Woodson May and R. L. Brown of the Journal to sell to them, his paper, the Somerset Times which proposition was readily accepted, the Times and Journal were immediately merged and the paper will hereafter be known as the Somerset Journal. The new editors are prominent politically in the eleventh district, Mr. May being a member of the State Central Committee and Mr Brown chairman of the County, Judicial and Senatorial committees, the Journal will at once assume the position of the leading democratic paper in the mountains, and will surely make things hum in behalf of Hon. Ben V. Smith's candidacy for congress.

As for Ed Walton, he can no more stay out of the newspaper business than a duck can stay out of water, and we venture to say he will "jump somebody's claim" before many months elapse, in fact we understand he already has his eye on a plant up here in the blue grass. No cleverer gentleman or better newspaper man ever followed the calling in Central Kentucky than Ed and we will welcome his quick return to the field.

An Evil Which Can Only Be Stopped By An Act Of National Congress.

The mail order houses "across the river" are a menace to the peace and sobriety of the communities who have sought by the ballot and by aid of the Kentucky legislature to banish intoxicating liquors from their confines. People who desire something to drink stronger than the locality affords, has but to sit down and write to one of these houses, of course sending the requisite amount of money, and the next train will bring him a supply of beer, whiskey or what not. Not only this but representatives of these houses come into the community regularly with their samples, looking after their trade, nurturing a rapidly growing evil. The Harrodsburg Leader tells of the coming of a barbecue to be given on Chaplin river by the proprietors of these "mail order houses", and rumor has it that we are to have one in this county in the near future, we know of no other object in the holding of these picnics save the advertising of their business by the promoters.

If congress will get busy and pass the Kenyon bill now pending which prohibits the shipping of liquor from one state into dry territory of another state, then will such practices be stopped, and then and not until then may we expect relief.

A Move In The Right Direction.

A move which we have long advocated, and one which appears to be the only one to attain the desired end, is now being made in neighboring counties, and we sincerely hope a like move will quickly follow in this county. It is the organizing of clubs in the various counties to assist the authorities in seeing that the newly enacted game law is not violated, and to punish the violators.

If clubs will be organized in Mercer, Boyle, Lincoln and Garrard counties, the counties through which Dix river flows, and the clubs will enact a rigid set of rules and regulations, and then LIVE UP TO THEM, we may yet see Dix river again become a good fish stream. But if they simply organize and let it go at that, do nothing, attempt nothing, or if they do catch someone violating the fish or game laws, allow themselves to be dissuaded from prosecuting that somebody, because that somebody happens to be a friend of somebody else, then it were as well that these clubs be not organized. We believe that the hunters and fishermen, of Garrard county, the true sportsmen, will be as ready to fall in with and assist in the enforcement of the fish and game laws and to organize a club with this end in view, as any of our neighbors, but they have seen and heard so much talk of enforcing the game laws, and every year seen that good stream devastated by the seiner and dynamite, the unblinded out of season, and every semblance of game law treated with utter contempt, that they are a little inclined to want to be shown.

We notice that citizens of adjoining counties are securing large quantities of fish to restock Dix river. This is an easy matter, any good citizen may obtain a supply of fish, but our people have grown tired of the trouble and expense of securing them only to see them gill netted, seined or dynamited before they deemed them large enough to angle for.

However, if the move is a bona fide one and arouses the proper amount of interest among our neighbors, the people of Garrard will readily assist in the proposed movement, and will organize a club to render every possible assistance. One absolute essential to the success of this movement is the co-operation of the farmers. Our county officers, in this county, and we suppose in the other counties, are ready and willing to enforce the laws, provided the culprits can be apprehended, or information can be filed sufficient upon which to take action, but unless this is done, they are powerless. Therefore, let a goodly number of farmers who own hunting grounds, or who live along the stream, be enlisted in the cause, and you will see such a rigid enforcement of the game laws as was never seen before in Central Kentucky.

Yes neighbors, you may count on the hearty co-operation of Garrard county in this matter.

We are going to press one day early this week in order to give the Record force the opportunity to take in the fair.

Born: To the wife of Mr. John Shackelford, a bouncing boy, Holiday Clay Shackelford in honor of two generations on his mothers side. The mother who was Miss Louise Kaufman at the home of her mother Mrs. H. C. Kauffman in this city. The lusty youngster was born on the 17th inst.

Court Day.

Monday was county court day and owing to the fact that a rain the night before had rendered it too wet to work a good crowd assembled. Business was dull, politics seeming to attract everyone's attention, and the minds of the farmer could not be drawn to the small amount of stock on the market. About 125 inferior grade cattle were at the stock yards, but manager Ross informs us that there were few purchasers and only about one half of them changed hands at the prevailing market price.

Eason.

Mrs. Emma Eason died at her home on Danville street in this city Sunday afternoon after a long and lingering illness of a complication of diseases and after funeral services at the grave by Rev. O. P. Bush her remains were placed at rest in the Lancaster cemetery at 2:30 o'clock Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. Eason was the wife of Mr. Marshall C. Eason of this place, who survives her, as does also two children, Mr. Benjamin Eason of Rowland Ky. and Mrs. William Walker of this county, also one sister Mrs. James W. Pumphrey of this place. Mrs. Eason had long been a consistent member of the Baptist church.

Time To Call A Halt.

One of the strolling band of gypsies, indians, horsetraders or what ever they be, which have been investing this locality of late, stopped near Harrodsburg this week and one of the women under the pretense of telling fortunes, entered the store of J. M. Sanders & Son, and by some means managed to gain access to the cash drawer and helped herself to the contents. Mr. Jesse Sanders detected her in the act however, took the money from her, but after her departure found that he was short about $20. He followed the band to town and had the woman arrested. She was taken before Judge Ford and held to await the grand jury under a bond of $100., which her companions immediately put up in cash for her appearance, and it is safe to say that neither she nor her companions will ever be seen again in these parts.

The limit of endurance has about been reached with this class of undesirable, and if they do not hunt different routes by which to travel in future they are liable to meet with pretty severe treatment at the hands of some of the people of the community who have suffered from their depredations.

HELM'S RECORD

Temperance People Have Considered Him "Asleep" In Washington.

Did Not Vote For Local Option In Stanford.

Congressman Harvey Helm is having printed in the newspapers of the Eighth Congressional District a letter which he wrote to Dr. Condie Vanarsdall, of Harrodsburg, last May. Dr. Vanarsdall is the leading temperance man of Mercer county. He is one of the highest character of men in this section of the State, and is always fighting for the moral uplift of the people. He wrote to Congressman Helm in order to locate him on the temperance question. Although Helm had been in Congress five years he had established no record. As often charged by the temperance people, he had at all times been "asleep on temperance legislation."

There was no way to locate him by his past record. His reply to Dr. Vanarsdall's letter was that he would support an interstate shipment bill provided it was constitutional. It was a known fact that Congressman Helm had also been "asleep" during the local option elections at Stanford. When the temperance people were waging a fight to oust the saloons, Congressman Helm went to "sleep" as usual and did not vote. This naturally made many temperance people suspicious, as they realized that a man who would not vote to take the saloons out of his own town would do but little toward the passage of an interstate shipment law in Washington. Hon. Jere Sullivan has always voted to oust the saloons from Richmond; when a member of the legislature he made a vigorous fight for the adoption of the county unit law and when he wrote the Democratic state platform last fall he forced into it the county unit plank over the vigorous protest of the Courier-Journal, Henry Watterson and a large element of the whiskey Democrats. After the adoption of the platform and the great victory of the Democratic ticket, Judge Sullivan endorsed the county unit bill which was adopted by the legislature. All the time Congressman Helm was "asleep."

Now, at this time it would be interesting to know how Dr. Vanarsdall stands in this race between Helm and Sullivan. He is a temperance man who is conscientiously for temperance. Why don't Congressman Helm tell how Dr. Varnarsdall stands now that all the testimony has been taken and both candidates have been weighed on their records.—Danville Advocate.

Tri-County Institute.

The tri-county Teachers Institute is in session in Harrodsburg this week, and despite the fact that it is "fair week" in Garrard, our teachers are compelled to attend, the law requires it. But the Harrodsburg people are noted for their hospitality, and they left Lancaster last year with dire threats to get even for the bountiful hospitality extended their representatives and we have small doubt but that the entertainment afforded our teachers in Mercer will more than make amends for the missing of the gala week at home.

Mr. George Grow Has Accident.

Mr. George Grow of Hackley while returning from Lexington last Saturday night in his car, accompanied by his son, Oran, John Lane and Lewis Gill, met with an accident which came near being a disastrous one. When just outside Lexington he met a wagon and when attempting to pass it one wheel of the machine dropped over the edge of a culvert which was so overgrown with weeds as to not be readily perceptible. Mr. Grow saw his danger and attempted to check his machine sufficiently to avoid the accident, but was unable to do so owing to the road being oiled. The machine turned completely over and Mr. Grow and Mr. Lane were caught under it, Lane sustaining a broken collar bone. None of the other members of the party were injured, but the car was badly wrecked. Lewis Gill lit on his feet like a cat and immediately went about releasing his friends from their perilous position.

HELM AGAINST LOCAL OPTION.

Did Not Vote For The Temperance Cause When A Local Option Election Was Held In Stanford.

(Anderson News)

As Congressman Helm is telling the temperance people now that he is for their interests, why didn't he go to Stanford a few months ago and vote against open saloons when that county took a vote on the proposition? No, he did not go. He left Washington about the middle of May to come to Kentucky to prosecute his canvass for renomination for Congress. "Uncle Sam," paying him $20 per day to do that, but he could not find "time" enough then when the whiskey election was on at Stanford, his home town, to go home and vote against open saloons when he was receiving the same compensation from "Uncle Sam." Do you think, Mr. Temperance Man, that Helm believes in the stopping of shipping whiskey into dry territory when he don't even take two or three days off from his duties to go to his home town of Stanford and vote to stop it at home, when he has taken sixty days off from his duties at $20 per day to prosecute his canvass for Congress in this district. Is that the kind of "temperance" man the people want to represent them at Washington? That is what the temperance people must decide. He has been in Congress for four years and from that day until this hour he has never introduced, or voted, for a bill stopping the shipping of whiskey into dry territory, though the House of Representatives is controlled by the party he represents.

Mail Carriers Will Fly.

This is an age of great discoveries. Progress rides on the air. Soon we may see Uncle Sam's mail carriers flying in all directions, transporting mail. People take a wonderful interest in a discovery that benefits them. That's why Dr. King's New Discovery for Coughs, Colds and other throat and lung diseases is the most popular medicine in America. "It cured me of a dreadful cough," writes Mrs. J. F. Davis, Stickney Corner, Me., "after doctor's treatment and all other remedies had failed." Excellent for coughs, colds or any bronchial affection. Price 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free at R. E. McRoberts & Son.

Mode of Concealment.

"I want to keep the real facts concerning this transaction a secret," said the enterprising man. "Then," replied the sage counselor, "I should immediately start a controversy concerning it. Then so many theories will be advanced that the facts will never become public."

Insect Bite Costs Leg.

Under Difficulties

"This is something like it," said Young Burgess with satisfaction. "It sure is!" agreed Miss Clancy. She shrugged her shoulders as she glanced back at the lace curtains of the boarding house window. Inside the parlor the gas glared hotly, lighting up the hair wreath above the mantel and glittering on the gaudy vases beneath.

"Now, that it's got warm enough to sit outdoors," pursued young Burgess, stretching his long legs over three steps below him, "we can shake the parlor in there! Gee, but it was fierce last winter, never to get a word with you without a lot of old women butting in with, 'Excuse me, but I am looking for my crochet work! Lovely evening, isn't it, Mr. Burgess?' or glaring at us for being there at all! Or having callers of their own! Nice, chatty conversations we could carry on that way, couldn't we? I—"

"Oh," said a voice behind them as the screen door creaked, "is some one out here? Oh, it's you, Miss Clancy—and Mr. Burgess, of course! Ahem—not that I meant anything, at all! I suppose I've interrupted your conversation, but it was so hot in there—I can go right in—"

"Don't think of it, Mrs. Miner," said Miss Clancy, airily rising. "We can have the steps and welcome. You are just going for a walk anyhow. Come on, Jimmy!"

"Wouldn't that frost you?" exclaimed young Burgess after they had proceeded a safe distance. "Just wanted to find out what we were talking about! Catch her sitting out there by herself! We'll circle the block and see!"

"When they got near enough again to see the steps young Burgess gave a low murmur of triumph. The steps were empty.

"In a sympathetic sort of disgust they sought the brilliantly lighted candy store on the corner and found a vacant table.

"Straw'ree for me," said Miss Clancy. "I just wonder, Jimmy, that you haven't got tired before this and quit me. It's fierce, going to see a girl that hasn't a parlor of her own to entertain company in! We've sure been chased around enough by them other boarders!"

"Well, were's away from 'em right now," said young Burgess. "Let's make the most of it. I—"

"Why, the ideal!" broke in a high-pitched voice at the next table. "If it isn't Miss Clancy! Oh—how do you do, Mr. Burgess!" There was an arch infection to the greeting that was intended to carry the idea that the speaker appreciated the sentimental situation.

"How-do, Miss Binks?" said Miss Clancy stonily.

Miss Binks was forty, dressed like twenty and fondly thought she looked like sixteen. She made eyes at young Burgess, who turned purple. Then she arose with her plate of ice cream and fluttered into the vacant chair at their table. "It's so 'onesome by myself," she purred apologetically. "I was so thirsty I just had to come out after something cold, but I shrink from going out in the evening unescorted. It's more sociable this way, don't you think?"

"Oh, my, yes!" agreed Miss Clancy with sarcasm that was totally lost. "Sorry we're just through. We've got an engagement to meet some friends!" "Let me slip back and stick some cold poison in her ice cream," growled young Burgess throatily after they had escaped. "She's the limit! Another second and she'd have asked to go walking with us! Let's go down to the little park. It's only a few blocks away!"

He tucked Miss Clancy's hand in the crook of his arm and they walked on with regained cheerfulness. It was not so bad to be out in the dusk with the faint echoes of a street piano in the air and auto wheels whirling by. Presently their feet crunched the gravel of the walk that ran around the little park and they strolled on till they found a bench that was unoccupied. A lilac bush in bloom waved above them. "Gee!" breathed young Burgess with a vast exhaling of breath signifying peace of mind at last.

He laid one hand over Miss Clancy's and she did not reprove him. Presently he turned his head toward her, but the words on his lips died in thin air. A ponderous footed person engulfed in alcoholic aura swayed toward their bench and dropped mustily on the other end and leered at them. "Bu'ful night?" he asked, ap pealingly.

Young Burgess and Miss Clancy did not speak till they were a block away. Then they halted and young Burgess spoke. "See here," he said, in the desperate tones of a man at bay. "I wasn't going to say anything till I got a boost in my pay, but I'm likely to blow up and remove a few people from the landscape if this goes on much longer! If you can scrape along for a while on what I'm getting I'll speak for a flat tomorrow! Our own parlor—think of it! And our own porch! Will you?"

Miss Clancy wept openly. "Will I?" she repeated. "Why, it would just be heaven!"—Chicago Daily News.

AN IGNORANT BUNCH.

An unsophisticated resident of a small town up the state had never been in court before, and was not familiar with the interrogative manner in which a lawyer juggles a witness. When he returned home in the evening a friend asked him how he had made out.

"Oh, I made out all right," he replied, "but I never saw such a bun of lawyers in my life."

"What was the matter with them?" queried the friend.

"A whole lot was the matter with them," answered the witness. "Judging from the million questions they asked me, there ain't a durned one of them knows anything about the case."

The War Game.

The militia was going through its spring maneuvers and many ladies had come out to witness the sham battle.

"Come out of that bush and surrender," yelled a captain to a private. "You are technically wounded."

The private shook his head.

"I may be technically wounded," said he, "but I can't come out. I've torn my pants on those pesky thorns."

A Waste of Time and Energy.

"Why are you retiring from big business? You surely do not consider yourself too old to continue to undergo the physical exertions of commerce."

"Oh, no. I'm as vigorous as I ever was, but I find that it takes all the profits to employ lawyers who are sharp enough to keep me out of jail. So what's the use of submitting to the trouble?"

Single Minded.

"Strange, that Smith, for a bachelor, should have so many mental purposes in his work."

"What has his being a bachelor got to do with his variety of mental work?"

"Only this: That a bachelor is a single-minded man."

Hard Luck. "I always was unlucky," he said, with a weary sigh.

"What's the matter now, old man?" his friend asked. "I've spent over $1,000 on having my boy play the fiddle, and now his hair's all comin' out."—Tit-Bits.

"Oh, a poet ain't so bad. He can wear my old clothes and he won't eat much."

What Makes A Woman?

One hundred and twenty pounds, more or less, of bone and muscle don't make a woman. Its a good foundation Put into it health and strength and she may rule a kingdom. But that's just what Electric Bitters give her. Thousands bless them for overcoming fainting and dizzy spells and for dispelling weakness, nervousness, backache and tired, listless, worn out feeling. "Electric Bitters have done me a world of good," writes Eliza Pool. Depew, Okla. "and I thank you, with all my heart, for making such a good medicine." Only 50c Guaranteed by R. E. McRoberts & Son.

BIG CHANGE.

Temperance Sentiment Is Spreading And Judge Sullivan Is Gaining Votes By Jumps And Bounds In Mercer County.

(Harrodsburg Herald)

Two months ago with only Helm and Sullivan in the race for Congress, Congressman Helm would have gotten a big majority in Mercer county. But marvelous changes have occurred and according to the best political observers Mercer is now distinctly a Sullivan county. At the same time it may be stated that Mercer is distinctly a temperance county and stands for men who have fought for temperance measures and who are conscientiously in favor of temperance legislation because they themselves personally believe in temperance. Judge Jullivan is such a man. He has worked for local option in Richmond; he forced the county unit plank in the last Democratic platform over the vigorous protest of the Courier-Journal and Henry Watterson and after the great Democratic victory last fall he prepared the county unit bill which was adopted by the legislature. At this time the greatest menace to the effective enforcement of local option is the lack of an interstate shipment law which would prevent liquor being ordered from foreign states. Congressman Helm in five years, representing all the while a strong temperance district has not introduced an interstate shipment bill, and has constantly been "asleep" on temperance legislation in Congress. These facts are known to all voters. And then, too, "birds of a feather flock together." In Anderson county the saloon keepers and liquor people are backing Congressman Helm almost to a man. Saloon people are opposing Sullivan because he is responsible for the law in Kentucky which will eventually put all of them out of business. But the dawn of a brighter day is at hand for wrecked homes, half starved children, and the countless men.

The Lesson.

Odd how you can pick up a lesson in something, no matter which way you turn, or which corner you happen to round on, says the New York Press. The other day a man who was taking his matutinal jaunt to the Eighty-first street station of the elevated found himself watching with sympathetic interest a chunky bull pup trotting valiantly down the street with a dog biscuit held between his teeth. The pup's owner, walking slowly in his wake, met his occasional backward glance with an adamant stare. Pup was being disciplined and was showing his thoroughbred nobility. Incidentally he was teaching everybody on the block a lesson in self-control.

A Genuine Hair Restorer.

Did you ever know of any hair preparation which would really grow hair and restore the color to gray or faded hair?

There are many preparations highly advertised to do the work, but it is probably your experience that none of them will really meet the claims of their manufacturers.

There are many so-called Hair Restorers which are nothing more than harmful chemical dyes, which do not grow any hair, the only result being that they dyed the hair, having no permanency and often causing a streaky appearance.

It has been the aim of the chemists for years to discover a preparation which would really grow hair and restore the color to gray or faded hair, but heretofore they have met with no success.

Prof. Rembler now claims to have discovered a combination of harmless vegetable composition which is a Genuine Hair Restorer and will grow hair and does not contain any dye of any kind, but will positively restore the natural color and brilliancy to gray and faded hair.

This is a very strong statement to make and if any chemist without the recognized ability and national reputation of Prof. Rembler were to make this claim we would be inclined to be skeptical as to its truth. It will be remembered by readers that are familiar with scientific discoveries that Prof. Rembler was the inventor of the one fire process for gilding glass and also the Rembler wireless coherer. Any statement made by Prof. Rembler is entitled to consideration as he would not make any statements which were not true and would injure his established reputation.

The Siloron Mfg. Co. of Pueblo, Colo., have purchased the exclusive American rights to manufacture Sagine, as they have named Prof. Rembler's invention, after having made a six month's test of Sagine and thoroughly demonstrating that it would positively do the work. The Siloron Mfg. Co. have authorized us to make the following remarkable offer to all who need a "Genuine Hair Restorer."

They will send a written agreement with every bottle of Sagine, to the effect that if one bottle of Sagine conscientiously used according to the directions does not give entire satisfaction to the purchaser; if Sagine does not actually grow hair and restore the color to gray or faded hair, remove dandruff and make the hair healthy and glossy, that they will pay the sum of $5 to any dissatisfied purchaser.

This is the strongest offer ever made by any manufacturer and one they could not possibly make if they did not know positively from experiment that it would do exactly what they claim for it. No one takes any chance in buying Sagine as it is certainly worth $1 to use a Genuine Hair Restorer that will grow hair, and if it does not give satisfaction they will pay you the $5 as agreed. Send a $1 bill to The Siloron Mfg. Co. Pueblo, Colo., stating that you wish to purchase a bottle of Sagine with the written agreement to grow hair and restore the color to gray or faded hair or pay you the sum of $5 and it will be sent to you by express in plain wrapper.

The Siloron Mfg. Co. is incorporated under the Laws of the State of Colorado and refer you to the mercantile agencies or any Pueblo banks as to their ability to fulfill any agreement they make.

BLUE GRASS FAIR

Seventh Annual Exhibition Opens At Lexington, Monday, August 12th.

CONTINUES FOR SIX DAYS

Bigger and Better Than Ever This Year—Numerous Attractions, Including Innes' Great Orchestral Band, the Greater Parker Shows and Big Free Attractions.

Lexington, Ky.—Since its organization in 1906, the Blue Grass Fair has taken full rank with the largest and the best of the State Fairs and Expositions of the country. It has very justly become known as the greatest horse show in the world. It is the only fair which offers a full quota and a classification for breeding classes of the three great breeds of American horses, as well as show classes, simplified and arranged in a manner which makes their distinction clear. Pitted on a larger and more extensive scale than ever before, with the certainty of increased interest on account of various added features, this year's fair promises to eclipse all previous records.

Numerous additions and improvements have been made in matter of show rings and amusement features have been secured of a kind and to an extent that justify the belief that the fair will prove not only more valuable than ever to the live stock interests of Kentucky, but also more attractive to those who visit it. In addition to the weanling and yearling divisions of the great Saddle Horse Futurity, three stakes are offered in the show classes for Saddle Horses.

Attractive Program Each Day.

One of the most attractive programs for the week will be on Wednesday when the classes for standard bred horses will be shown.

In addition to the cash premiums offered seasons to the leading horses in service are donated by various owners and should attract the attention of the entire horse world.

Besides, such great performers and sires as Kentucky Todd, Walnut Hall, (the sire of the Harvester 2:01) Tregantle, Cochato, Vice Commodore, John A. McKerron, etc. Mr. David M. Look, of New York, donates a season to the great horse Bingen (sire of the champion light harness horse of the world Uhlau). The fair will be opened on Monday, August 12th, at 2 p. m. when an attractive racing program has been arranged, interesting show rings will be seen, and Innes' great band with Miss Beatrice Van Loon, soprano, will be heard. The Greater Parker Shows, the greatest on the road, will hold forth in "Gayety Lane," with the cleanest and best shows ever shown to a Kentucky audience.

One Tuesday, the 13th, the big mule show, always a most interesting feature of the Blue Grass Fair, will be shown, and Hereford cattle will also be seen.

Various classes for sheep and swine will be judged in the pens, and the poultry and pigeons will be judged in the poultry house. The 1912 division of the great Futurity will be shown in the afternoon. This ring last year proved the greatest show ever seen at any fair—there being 51 exhibits and taking three hours for the judges to place the ribbons. Great show rings in other classes, three free attractions, two big bands, two soprano singers will help fill out the day's program.

On Wednesday morning the breeding classes for standard bred horses as mentioned above, classes for Jack stock, etc., will be shown in front of the grand stand.

Famous Blue Grass Stake Wednesday.

In the afternoon the famous Blue Grass Stake for five-gaited saddle horses, which always produces the best seen anywhere in the world. This stake always gives a spirited and exciting contest, and brings out a large field.

The yearling division of the Saddle Horse Futurity, which is a renewal of the 1911 show, should be proven a great show, including as it does the winners of last year and many others.

Thursday is always the big day and an extra program has been arranged. The forenoon will be taken up with the breeding classes for American Saddle Horses, the prizes for which are particularly rich and desirable and certain to bring about a magnificent show.

The classes for Short Horn Cattle, which always produce a show of Short Horns well worth a trip of many miles to those interested in beef cattle, will be shown in front of stand. In the afternoon will be witnessed the Junior Championship Stake for five-gaited saddle horses and an excellent program for roadsters, three and five-gaited horses, and fine harness horses.

Friday morning will be devoted to Jersey cattle, which is always a good show as the best herds in state meet here.

In the afternoon Shetland ponies, in addition to racing and a varied program of show classes.

Thoroughbred Day Saturday.

Saturday is always known as Thoroughbred Day when we see rings which bring together many of the most famous thoroughbred horses from the greatest nurseries in Kentucky.

The afternoon program is one of the most interesting of the entire week, as it includes all the championships in which final contests occur between the winners of the individual classes during the preceding days of the fair. The rule governing these classes requires all animals eligible to show in these rings, or forfeit money won in the previous shows and this rule will be strictly adhered to, thereby assuring large fields and affording the public the opportunity of seeing the winners brought together.

The American Saddle Horse Breeders' Association Special, for which a magnificent trophy is offered, for nest stallion or mare three years old and under, will be contested on this the last afternoon.

The week promises to be not only a gala one in Lexington, but record breaking in the history of the Blue Grass Fair.

INNES AND HIS BAND

The newspapers of the country, in commenting on Bandmaster Innes' appointment as Director-in-Chief of Music at the World's Fair held last summer at Seattle, Wash., proclaimed him one of the really great bandmasters of the world. That he is indeed so is best evidenced by the regard in which he is held by great musicians throughout the continent and by his ability to visit a city year after year and be welcomed by ever increasing multitudes.

The longer Innes remains in a city, the more he is appreciated. He is resourceful and versatile and ever on the lookout for some musical novelty. His programs, paradoxical as the statement may seem, are a delight to the musical and non-musical alike.

Bandmaster Innes.

Innes indeed is known as the King of Program Makers. Some composition given is above the heads of some of his auditors, a catchy encore is cleverly introduced, which, while good music, full of rhythm and melody, directly appeals to everyone without exception. It is in fact this quickness of response to the unspoken thought of his listeners that has entrenched him so firmly in the hearts of his admirers.

Innes' coming engagement the week of August 12 to 17 at the Blue Grass Fair, accompanied as he will be by the full strength of his sixty-two players and several notable Grand Opera Artists, promises to be an occasion of more than local interest.

POULTRY SHOW

The Blue Grass Fair has this year become a member of the American Poultry Association, and the exhibit in this large and important department will be governed by the rules of that Association. This is a guarantee of equal rights and justice to all.

A classification embodying premiums for over 300 classes of poultry and pigeons has been prepared, and the management expects this year to be, as usual, a great show.

In addition to the cash premiums, the Blue Grass Fair and a number of merchants of Lexington have donated 20 handsome silver cups, ten for poultry and ten for pigeons. The show is in charge of the same excellent and efficient committee as in past two years, and Mr. S. B. Lane, of Spiceland, Ind., has been secured to act as judge. Dr. C. W. Trapp, of Lexington, will judge the classes for pigeons. An entrance fee of 25 cents for each bird will be charged and the management hope that this, together with the American Poultry Association rules to govern, will confine the entries to real owners of birds.

The West is rapidly becoming the musical center of America, and it is in recognition of this that the headquarters of Innes and his band have recently been moved from New York to Chicago. In welcoming the famous bandmaster to Chicago, one of the leading newspapers of that city said: "In response to the invitation of many of Chicago's most prominent patrons of music, Innes and his orchestral band of sixty players have removed their general offices and official home from New York to the City of Chicago. The series of popular concerts announced to be given by the organization will fittingly mark this latest addition to the musical forces of our city."

CARE OF MILK IN THE HOME

Frequently Contains Bacteria In Such Large Numbers It Is Not Safe for the Children.

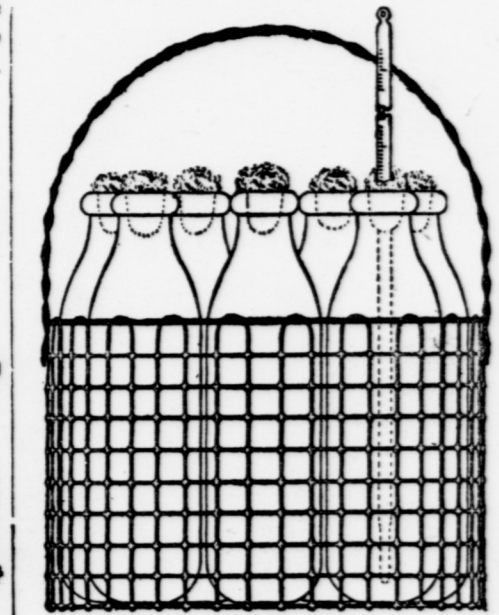

Milk delivered in the cities in the summer months frequently contains bacteria in such large numbers that it is not a safe food for children, especially for infants whose food consists entirely of milk. When it is impossible to obtain milk entirely free from bacteria, it is advisable to pasteurize the milk.

Pasteurization should be done in such a way that disease-producing bacteria as well as those likely to produce intestinal disturbances are destroyed without injuring the flavor or the nutritive value of the milk. This may be accomplished in the home by the use of a simple improvised outfit.

Milk is most conveniently pasteurized in the bottles in which it is delivered. To do this use a small pail with a perforated false bottom. An inverted tin tin with a few holes punched in it will answer for this purpose. This will raise the bottles from the bottom of the pail, thus allowing a free circulation of the water and preventing bumping of the bottles.

Punch a hole through the cap of one of the bottles and insert a thermometer—a good one with the scale etched on the glass should be used. Set the bottles of milk in the pail and fill the pail with water nearly to the level of the milk. Put the pail on the stove or over a gas flame and heat it until the thermometer in the milk shows not less than 145 degrees nor more than 150 degrees. The bottles should then be removed and allowed to stand from 20 to 30 minutes.

The punctured cap should be replaced with a new one or the bottle covered with an inverted cup. After 30 minutes the milk should be cooled as quickly as possible. Set the bottles first in warm water, to avoid breaking by sudden change in temperature. Replace this water slowly with cold water. After cooling the milk should be kept at the lowest available temperature.

This method may be employed to retard the souring of milk or cream for ordinary purposes.

KEEP MILK COOL IN SUMMER

Where Ice Cannot Conveniently Be Used Piece of Flannel Cloth, Immersed in Water, Is Good.

When ice or cold water cannot be obtained, or where a can of milk has to be left in a place where water and ice cannot be conveniently used, a wet cloth—preferably flannel—wrapped around the can is an aid in keeping milk cool.

One end of the cloth is best left extending from the bottom of the can and immersed in a pail of water. A large amount of the sun rays falling on the wet cloth is consumed in evaporating moisture, and is thus prevented from reaching the milk. So long as the cloth is kept wet it is a protection, but as soon as it becomes dry heat passes through it to the milk uninterrupted.

DAIRY NOTES

Keep your cream test around 30 per cent.

Good fences and good pasture are a fine combination.

Foamy butter is a sign that the cream was too sour.

The more the study, the greater the success in dairying.

Soaking the churn in brine occasionally will help keep it sweet.

The best milk flow cannot be maintained without a variety of feeds for the cow.

In these days of fresh green grass, don't fail to keep plenty of salt before the cows.

Individual excellence is the only safe guide to be depended upon in selecting cows to build up a good herd.

To thoroughly clean milk utensils they first should be rinsed with cold water, to remove all particles of milk.

Fly time means milking after dusk, having a darkened milking shed, the use of some fly repeller, or else a fight with flies and cows.

The best dairy appliances in the world are of little use to us if we do not learn how to use them to the best possible advantage.

Do not turn the cows on the lush grass long at a time; neither is it well to shut off their grain as soon as grass comes.

Taper off slowly.

One advantage of succulent feed is the fact that it not only provides the cow with more moisture, but at the same time is more appetizing.
